HN STRAIGHT-AWAY TEST

Orville Wright Made a Cross-country
Flight with Passenger and Broke
All Speed Records over a Measured Course.

Washington, D. C., July 31.—Orville Wright last evening attained the zenith of hard earned success. In a ten-mile cross country flight in the aeroplane built by himself and his older brother, Wilbur, and accompanied by Lieutenant Benjamin D. Foulois, an intrepid officer of the army signal corps, he not only surpassed the speed requirements of his contract with the United States government but accomplished the most difficult and daring flight ever planned for a heavier than air flying machine. Incidentally, he broke all speed records over a measured course.

Wright's speed was more than 43 miles an hour. He made the 10-mile flight in 14 minutes and 28 seconds, including more than 30 seconds required for the turn beyond the line at Shaler hill, the southern end of the course. He attained a height in crossing the valley of Four-mile Run of nearly 500 feet and the average altitude of his practically level course was about 200 feet.

President Taft arrived upon the parade grounds at Fort Myer just in time to see the aeroplane land and to participate in the demonstration which welcomed the triumphant aviator. He went Colonel Treat, commanding officer of the artillery at Fort Myer, to bear his congratulations to the victor.

Two Union veterans of the Civil war nestled among the tops of the trees that have overgrown Fort Richardson, one of the wartime defenses of Washington, were among the few who beheld the flight from start to finish.

The official board will determine the record made. It is agreed that it exceeded 42 miles an hour. The Wrights will therefore receive $30,000, including a bonus of $5,000 for their aeroplane.

TWO HUNDRED MEN

They Were Summarily Convicted of Rioting in Barcelona by a Court-martial—Streets Run with

The city will be months resuming its normal condition.

TWO DEATHS IN NEW YORK.

Numerous Victims of Heat in The Hospitals.

New York, July 31.—The hot wave from the west broke over New York and vicinity in earnest yesterday.

Thursday's excessive humidity and comparatively high temperatures were followed by little relief at night.

The enervating effects of the heat and humidity were in evidence yesterday when, with two deaths already reported, numerous heat prostration cases began calling for attention at the hospitals.

The temperature, starting with a minimum of 75 for the night, rose rapidly from 78 at 8 a. m. to 85 at 10 and 88 degrees at 11.

The humidity continued high.

IMMUNE FROM TYPHOID.

Soldiers Treated with New Serum Failed to Contract the Disease.

Omaha, Neb., July 31.—The last of the series of typhoid tests have been applied to Sergeant Fuller and Privates Schmidt and Goodman of Fort Omaha and they have been pronounced immune.

In June they were vaccinated with typhoid serum and developed the disease in a mild form. Later they were vaccinated, but the serum did not "take."

Ten days ago they underwent the extreme test, that of drinking freely of a gallon of stagnant water, into which 1,000,000 fever germs had been placed.

The men were placed in the hospital and closely watched. They should have developed symptoms within five to seven days, but as none have appeared they are now declared immune.

PULLIAM FUNERAL MONDAY.

Will Be Held in Louisville—Brother-in-law Comes After The Body.

CANNON WILL SUPPORT BILL.

Speaker of the House Made an Authorized Statement Last Night.

Washington, July 31.—Expressing himself as of the opinion that the United States was on the eve of the most prosperous era it had ever enjoyed, Speaker Joseph G. Cannon last night, in an authorized statement, declared that he was in favor of and would support and vote for the conference report on the tariff bill.

Mr. Cannon's utterances were called forth as a denial of a report which had gained currency that he was indifferent as to the fate of the conference report.

"I am in favor of and shall support and vote for the conference report," said Speaker Cannon. "All legislation, especially revenue legislation, is the result of a series of compromises. The conference report covers a bill that is fairly protective to those engaged in production. If I were supreme I could make a bill that in some respects would suit me better than the proposed bill. It might not be better. While the bill sufficiently protects our present industries, in my judgment, under its provisions new industries will not be established. The country has been waiting for this legislation for five months and many, having confidence that it would meet the protective policy of the Republican party, have governed themselves accordingly. Protection has increased and is increasing. Upon the enactment of the pending bill, the people of the United States will see that for many years to come the legislation is not substantially changed. I am firmly of the opinion that we are upon the eve of the most prosperous era that we have ever enjoyed in the United States."

INDIANS WERE SUFFERING

And Commissioner Valentine Promptly
Cut Red Tape.

Washington, July 31.—Brushing aside governmental "red tape" in the interest of suffering humanity, Commissioner of Indian Affairs Valentine yesterday took quick and decisive steps to relieve more than 1,200 Indians in Wisconsin who were left without shelter and food as the result of the recent series of cloudbursts in that state.

Mr. Valentine, acting upon the alarming reports from Superintendent Canby, of the Lac du Flambeau Indian agency in Wisconsin, telegraphed the latter to take every possible means to relieve the destitute Indians and also to check any possible spread of disease consequent upon the floods.

According to the report of Mr. Campbell, the Red River Indian reservation suffered most from the cloudbursts. The Indian village of Odanah, situated on the banks of a river, also suffered heavily. When the dam gave way several miles above the town, the water and debris poured down upon the Indian settlement, sweeping away several houses, overturning others, and all household goods were either destroyed or rendered unrecognizable. Many Indian families lost all their possessions and have temporarily been deprived of earning a livelihood.

FOUGHT OFF MOB.

Negro Escaped Crowd of Would-Be Lynchers.

Cincinnati, O., July 31.—Chased by an angry mob of more than 50 white persons, a negro whose name was said to be O'Neil, made his escape from the crowd last night after he had stabbed Mrs. Benjamin Wines and knocked down and less seriously injured several other persons.

The affair, which rapidly developed the proportions of a race riot, occurred at West Sixth street in the downtown district. After stabbing the woman, who had interfered because he had slapped his little daughter, O'Neil was set upon by the crowd which threatened to lynch him.

Other negroes in the vicinity came to O'Neil's assistance during the trouble and police reserves were rushed to the scene and they succeeded in restoring order.

"JACK THE SPITTER."

Search in Washington For Man Who Rains Gowns.

Washington, July 31.—"Jack the Spitter" is being searched for high and low by Capitol police. Nine women reported to the superintendent of police in the Capitol building yesterday morning that they had been spattered with tobacco juice squirted on them by some miscreant. The case is most remarkable. The expectorating fiend seems to have aimed his shot at the back between fair shoulders and the nicotine stream trickled down, completely ruining the garment.

The women clerk in the House of Representatives, on starting for home, was followed by a strange man, to avoid whom she retraced her steps to the Capitol. Then she discovered that her gown had been decorated with tobacco juice. The offender is believed to be a man of about 40 with sandy hair and mustache, with a severe description of the man who pursued the House employee.

HIGHER THAN BLOOD HEAT.

Mercury Marked 107 Degrees in Boston
Yesterday.

Boston, July 31.—Blood heat was reached and exceeded in the atmosphere yesterday forenoon. It was the hottest day so far this summer. All through the night and each successive hour in the forenoon it was many degrees hotter than during the corresponding hours of previous days this week. More oppressive became the day with each hour of its growth, for the mercury rose faster than usual and was attended by a high humidity.

Reliable thermometers in the street registered 103 degrees a whole hour before the sun touched them, while in the deep shadow of tall buildings the temperature measured 98 to 99 degrees at seven o'clock. Still rising, it went up to 102 degrees in the shade and 107 degrees in the sun at two o'clock.

At 3 p. m. the official thermometer at top of the post office building registered 99 degrees.

EGO" VERY BADThaw's Unusual Bump May Prove a Stumbling Block

TO HIS WAY TO FREEDOM

Justice Mills, Before Whom the Sanity
Hearing Is Being Held, Took a Hand at Examining the Witness for Himself.

White Plains, N. Y., July 31.—Harry Thaw and his attorney, Mr. Morchauser, are working today on the rebuttal evidence for Monday, when Justice Mills will resume the case. Thaw was confident and said: "I think Mills will not consider much of the evidence which Jerome has produced when we show it is utterly false. Mills is evidently fair and I believe he will free me as soon as possible."

White Plains, N. Y., July 31.—Prior to the adjournment of the court yesterday until Monday, Harry K. Thaw was given a setback through the interrogations of Justice Isaac Mills, at whose term of the supreme court, the slayer of Stanford White is striving to prove himself sane. Justice Mills put a series of questions that in the judgment of many were more pertinent than any asked during the twelve hours Thaw had been questioned.

Judge Mills said to Thaw: "They are going to argue to me that all the way through you have exhibited 'exaggerated ego.' I have observed you constantly interrupting him and making suggestions. You have constantly changed your counsel before this. Why do you not trust Mr. Morchauser?"

"I do," said Thaw hastily. "Why didn't you trust your other lawyers, you a man unlearned in the law? Haven't you felt all the way through that you were better able to conduct this case?"

"No sir," answered Thaw. "Although I might have in the case of Mr. Harridge."

Taking up the lead suggested by the court, Mr. Jerome dwelt further on the "exaggerated ego" at the afternoon session quoting from opinions of alienists at the homicide trials. He quoted Dr. Britton D. Evans, who had complained Thaw would not listen to arguments and could not be convinced. Another expert on the prisoner's "rapid flow of words and rapid manner" and "a faculty of expression far beyond the normal."

This line of argument is taken to indicate that the state will strive to belittle the prisoner's general credibility, showing on the stand on the theory that he was made glib, as it were, by the "exaggerated ego" at Sedgwick.

While Thaw listened, "smiles" which Mr. Jerome, as he has done the most he was more worried "bank play" was before when the disfigurement of his mental condition was shown when he killed White. He was "medically insane," but that he "might have been legally insane" at the time of the shooting.

TAKEN VIOLENTLY INSANE.

Man Lost His Mind Reading Thaw's
Testimony in The Hot Weather.

New York, July 31.—Edward Curdin, bookkeeper, went violently insane in Brooklyn yesterday from the combined effect of the heat and reading the testimony in the Thaw case. He wrecked his house, fought with the police, and finally became so frenzied when taken to the hospital that he burst his straight-jacket and had to be locked in a padded cell.

The floor of his room was found littered with newspapers containing accounts of the present proceedings at White Plains.

Could Not Endure a Trial.

Wheeler by drinking cyanide and being accused by several former employers of having retained collections which should have been turned in.

He forfeited $250 bail in police court yesterday morning and when the case was reopened in the afternoon he was to furnish a bond. While talking with Detective Wheeler he whined the bottle of cyanide acid from his pocket and drank more than an ounce of the fluid. Nold died while being taken to the hospital.

Marker, assistant cashier of the First National bank, appeared at his home in this city early yesterday after having been missing since last Saturday evening when it is charged, he carried away with him sixty thousand dollars of the bank's funds. Marker, until lately cashier of the bank, could discuss the allegations of defalcation. Noah Marker would only say he had been in St. Louis, friends and acquaintances congratulated him on his return. Many business men assure him of their support. Marker awaited the coming of the United States authorities.

A few days ago, Mr. Webb was fined $15 and costs by Justice DeBerolte for violating the speed law. The exact date was the 26th. Mr. Webb's license ran out the 17th which made him liable for the prosecution brought yesterday.

In justice to Mr. Webb, it may be stated, that he fully expected to be out of the state at this time and that he left the matter of a renewal of his license to Mr. Gebhardt, who, through an oversight, did not obtain the proper credentials.

MEXICO WAS SHAKEN
BY EARTHQUAKE

Considerable Loss of Life Reported in the Central Part of the Country from Yesterday's Disturbance.

Mexico City, July 31.—With Chilpancingo destroyed and Acapulco partly razed and the loss of life phenomenal, Central Mexico from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Queretaro on the north to Oaxaca on the south, an area of more than 1,000 square miles, was shaken at an early hour yesterday by a series of the most severe earth shocks felt in the region for the last quarter of a century.

The quake was severe in Mexico City, but not so in the destruction. Reports telling of thousands of life are being received from all parts of the country. The official figures thus far given show 13 killed and more than a score mortally injured.

While word came from C. Propros, an American commercial traveler at Chilpancingo-Guerrero, that that city was destroyed and the inhabitants are living in the open, suffering from the elements, the loss of life is not definitely known. Capulco, Guerrero, was razed.

According to the observatory records, the first shock of the series was felt at 4:15 in the morning. It was severe, causing the bells of the many cathedrals of Mexico City to toll, breaking crockery and in some instances leveling walls.

The inhabitants of the capital had hardly recovered from fright when a second and more severe shock caused an outpouring of nearly all of the residents.

This movement was of a twisting character and lasted with marked severity for 30 seconds. The tall buildings of the capital swayed and in some instances cracked, the pavement opened in places and in the poorer quarters a number of houses collapsed.

So far as can be learned from police records six persons lost their lives in Mexico City and its environs as a result of the second shock. Two were men of the lower class, the others were three women and a child.

The large American colony escaped unscathed. They with the entire native population, remained in the plazas until daylight.

The property damage in Mexico City is slight. All electric currents in Mexico City were shut off during the first shocks and the city was in dense darkness save for the flashes of lightning which interspersed the shock.

The waiting and praying of the Indians in the public squares added to the weirdness of the situation and left an unforgettable impression on the minds of the half clad, shivering hordes of frightened men, women and children, who stood out in the driving rain waiting for the coming of daylight.

When the sun shone, the people returned to their homes. They had hardly begun to eat when a third shock struck them again scurrying to the streets.

NEW THEATRE IN BARRE.

"Dreamland" for Motion Pictures and Vaudeville Nearly Completed.

With the opening of the new Dreamland motion picture theatre in the Arcade block Monday night, this city will support four similar amusement houses. St. Massucco, the enterprising owner of the popular Bijou theatre, has spared no expense in making this, his latest venture, one of the finest theatres in northern New England.

An unusually attractive, artistically stamped and decorated auditorium, studded with 170 four-randle power frosted electric lights, has been put up by the Penn Metal and Steel company of Boston. When the large 112-light name sign is put in place, which will be in a few days, the radiant brilliancy of the whole will be strong enough to extend clear across Main street and be seen a long distance in either direction. Electrical experts say that it will probably be the best lighted theatre front in Vermont. The box office is in the center, with an entrance and exit on either side.

Behind the office and inside the theatre is the operating booth. It is constructed of steel throughout and contains the big Nichols picture machine and dissolving stereopticon, both the very latest and most expensive types. All equipment inside the booth is insulated and every conceivable preventive against fire is there. The booth itself and contents were built according to the rigid specifications of the New York board of fire underwriters.

The seating capacity is over 300. Regular opera chairs, instead of the cheaper kinds used in most places, have been installed. Aisles are laid with rubber matting. Mellow lights are along both sides. Eight electric fans, four on each side, a large suction fan, and the operating booth, six side windows and six floor windows, will be the means of ventilation. It has been thought by competent judges to be a fully adequate system. There are four large exits, two on Main street and two on Pearl street. In event of large audiences, the inconvenience of persons passing each other is thus done away with by the Pearl street exits. A stage, 15 by 15 feet, has been built, with the idea in view that vaudeville may be introduced.

The programs will be the best obtainable. Foreign and American manufacturers will supply the new theatre with the most recent productions. Nothing but the highest order of pictures will be seen. Later popular songs hits, with accompanying beautifully colored illustrative pictures, will be sung by talented singers. Other attractions may be added.

Experienced and courteous ushers will be in attendance. Women and children will be especially looked after. At all times good order will be maintained.

Prof. S. C. Cooke of Boston will be the theatre pianist, and "Joe" Stump, considered to be one of the most skillful young mechanical operators in the business, will be the directing operator. Several of Mr. Massucco's excellent staff of singers will be heard there.

It is intended by the management that Dreamland shall be an ideal place to spend a passing hour in interesting recreation, afternoon or evening. The admission price will be five cents.
